SCOPE AND RESPONSIBILITIES:

After realizing a financial success with the Jaslo Center in the exploding growth market of southwest Port St. Lucie, developer Charles Grunbaum hired Richard K. Davis Construction Corporation Design/Build Service for the Paar Center just a block away. By utilizing the economics of Butler[®] Manufacturing's structural steel system and MR-24 Standing Seam Metal Roof in combination with conventional elements of stuccoed masonry and concrete tile entry features, another successful retail strip center now graces Port St. Lucie Boulevard.
